

Zone 5 inner

Section 28: High Barnet to New Barnet

Distance: 1.51 mi, 2.42 km

Introduction

This is a very short section, that goes eastwards through Barnet. The first part takes us through a rather unexpected corner of the borough.

There are a surprisingly large number of pubs in New Barnet (although they may not all be open).

Directions

Leave High Barnet station by the upper entrance, and turn right up the ramp.

At the top, turn right down Meadway.

Turn right onto a tarmac path across a grassy area.

Just before the end of the tarmac path, bear right onto a grass path.

Go up a flight of steps, and turn right at the top.

Take the second path on the right.

Turn left and then right, and pass through a brick archway.

Keep following the path until it leads you out of the hospice grounds.

Cross the road, and pass under a wooden arch into Highlands Gardens.

Bear left at every fork (apart from the second one), until you reach the bottom end of the gardens. Leave through a more imposing entrance than the one by which you entered.

Follow this road all the way to the end.

At the T junction, turn right.

Turn right up Triangle Passage.

At the end, bear left along Station Approach, which leads you to New Barnet station.
